

POLISH SEMINAR “STEM CONTINUOUS PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT IN EU –
DEVELOPMENT OF COMMUNICATION COMPETENCES OF CHEMISTRY
LECTURERS”

The event has taken place on at the Faculty of Chemistry, Maria Skłodowska Curie University, pl. M. Curie-Skłodowskiej 2, 20-031 Lublin, Poland. The event was organized by Iwona Maciejowska, Aleksandra Lis, Bartosz Trzewik, who represented Jagiellonian University in Krakow in the STEM-CPD@EUni project. At the event 34 lecturers from the ten Polish general, medical and technical universities and two Ukrainian universities attended proposed activities. Presentation, workshops, poster and discussions were in Polish language.

PROGRAMME

12th September 2022

14.00-16.15 workshop based on mMOOC:

I. Maciejowska „Dobry feedback jako niezbędny element oceniania wspierającego uczenie się” (eng. Good feedback as an essential element of assessment supporting learning)

15th September 2022

11.00-13.15 two parallel workshops based on mMOOC:

I. Maciejowska, B. Trzewik, A.Lis „Jak mówić, żeby studenci nas rozumieli i jak słuchać, żeby studenci do nas mówili?” (eng. How to talk so that students understand us and how to listen so that students talk to us)

13.15-13.30 presentation:

B. Trzewik “Tworzenie i realizacja MOOC dla kadry kierunków STEM – doświadczenia i wnioski praktyczne” (eng. Creation and implementation of MOOCs for STEM faculty – experiences and practical conclusions”)

17.00-18.00 poster session:

“STEM continuous professional development in EU – wyniki badań” (eng. STEM continuous professional development in EU – research results).

The workshop form showed in practice how effective Student Centered Learning is and drew the participants' attention to the need to develop teaching competences. Additionally, participants were invited in the formal and informal way (during gathering and discussion) to visit project website, pilot mMOOCs on the e-learning platform ectnmoocs.eu, visit Starfish platform and get acquainted with user cases presented there, as well as to attend the Final project Conference in Ljubljana (June 2023).